

Cyber Security Regulator

According to China government restructure 2018, the cybersecurity is highly paid attention and strictly inspected by central government. Cyberspace Administration of China (CAC) was officially stripped off from MIIT and combined with Office of the Central Cybersecurity Affairs Commission (OCCAC). The two could be considered as one unique ministerial-level authority led by both top of Communist Party of China (CPC) and the State Council. Personnel and staff is normally assigned with two equal titles and belongs to the same department and division of both CAC and OCCAC concurrently.

Structure (same in CAC and OCCAC)

Departments and personnel in charge

		Title	Name
		Director general	Zhuang Rongwen
		Vice director	Gao Xiang
		Vice director	Yang Xiaowei
		Vice director	Liu Honglie
Bureau for online comments	Division of guidance on local affairs	Bureau director	Bao Yun
	Division of team building
Bureau for internet and society	Division of social organization	Bureau director	Zhang Xunhong
	Division of internet culture
Bureau for mobile internet administration	Division of mobile-based communication	Bureau director	Fang Nan

	Division of industry supervision
Bureau for cybersecurity	Division of General affairs	Bureau director	Zhao ZeLiang
	Division of strategy standards
	Division of online infrastructure protection
Bureau for international cooperation		Bureau director	Qi Xiao Xia
Bureau for policy and law	Division of policy research	Bureau director	Liu Zhengrong
	Division of survey and research
	Division of law and regulation
Bureau for information service and management		Bureau director	Liang Lihua
Bureau for propagation of online news	Division of news	Bureau director	Jiang Jun
Bureau for IT promotion	Division of development and planning	Bureau director	Xu Yu
	Division of E-government affairs
Bureau for general coordination, management and law enforcement supervision		Bureau director	Xia Xueping

Subordinate unites

CAC research Center for online news

CAC organization service center

CAC training center

National research center for informational technology security

China internet network information center

Cybersecurity emergency command center

China research institute for cyberspace

China internet development foundation

National center for internet and information security management

China information technology security evaluation center

Report center for illegal and improper information

Relationship with TC260

TC260 is a national standardization technical committee under direct lead of CAC.

Yang Xiaowei, vice director of CAC, takes the chair of the committee and Zhao Zeliang (Chief engineer and director of bureau for cybersecurity) is appointed as the first vice chairman.

www.cnstandards.net